Prevention and Combatting of Corrupt Activities Act 12 of 2004

Should an employee be dismissed because of theft of monies belonging to the employer, the employee may, in most instances, be summarily dismissed after following appropriate disciplinary procedures. Unfortunately, this may not be the end of the employee's misfortunes. After 31 July 2004, and in terms of section 34(1) of the Prevention and Combatting of Corrupt Activities Act 12 of 2004 ("PCCA"), an employer who knows, ought to have reasonably known, or even suspects (this means even before a dismissal takes place) that an employee has committed an offence of theft, fraud, extortion or uttering a forged document involving an amount of R100,000.00 or more, must report such knowledge or suspicion to the South African Police. Section 34(2) of POCA makes it an offence for any employer privy to such knowledge failing to report it to the police and the employer may be liable for a fine or up to 10 years' imprisonment.

Commitment Fee of R750 for starting and it's a non refundable payment, after 14 working days SMBA cc would supply you with a speed point that turnaround time for its registration is equivalent to two (2) weeks {SMBA property}.
